RIGHTPEOPLEISATION
OF SOCIAL NETWORKS

Right People allows PC and mobile phone users to find the value within the people around them, or within their social networks. Right People connects users for valuable relationships whether that means helping them solve personal or business problems. Right People brings value to the popular existing social networks that many people have spent so much time and energy building.

Right People launches Right People for Conferences and Tradeshows

Conferences and Tradeshows are primarily selling networking opportunities. Just imagine the accelerating impact of allowing participants to start networking as soon as they have paid their registration fees. Months or weeks in advance, they have a reason to pay for their attendance, far prior to the date of the event.

This is what Right People has just revealed today: the most powerful networking tool for conferences and tradehows.

If you are a conference or tradeshow organizer, you may contact our sales team to customize Right People networking tool for your event.
